

MAN OF THE YEAR?

Traditionally TIME's Man of the Year covers have been real individuals or a symbolic representation of a group of people. Several human candidates might have represented 1982, but none symbolized the past year richly or more significant than a machine: the computer.

"Goodbye, Farewell And Amen"

M*A*S*H

The cast and crew of M*A*S*H is shutting down the Korean War on television after 11 years. This means goodbye to one of the most popular television series of II time. M*A*S*H has been in the Top 10 for nine out of its 11 years on CBS. It has won the Peabody and Humanitas awards, many Golden Globes, Peoples Choice awards, and 12 Emmys. On Monday night, February 29, 1983, M°A°S°H ended with its 251st episode, which lasted two and one half hours. Across the nation Monday night there were many "farewell to MAS" bashes" held in bars, living rooms, restaurants, auditoriums, and hospitals which simulated a mobile Army surgical hospital.

M*A*S*H #1

M°A°S°H #2

Bottom: The newest members of M*A*S*H. Mike Farrell (Capt. B.J. Hunnicut), David Ogden Stiers (Major Charles Emerson Winchester), and Harry Morgan (Col. Sherman Potter).

Top left: who would suspect that a homely little, mechanical creature would win the hearts of movie goers around the world? Certainly not Steven Spielberg the creator director of E.T. - the Extra Terrestrial. This film was not only the most successful film in history but also helped the film industry have the most successful season in nearly 40 years. Center: A small fire at the Alton Container Company on East Broadway erupted on Friday April 2, 1982. Due to the high flamability of the paper bales that were on fire and the very strong winds that whipped the area that day, a major conflagration began. The Alton Fire Department fought a fierce battle for three days to gain control of the fire. After it was over the Alton Container fire had been Alton's largest and costliest fire.

Bottom: A barge loaded with highly explosive benzine broke loose from a tow boat and lodged against the Alton Dam. The strong channel current pulled the barge under the water creating an extremely dangerous situation. Workers were able to prevent a major diaster by draining off the Top Left: In the final days of the fight for the Equal Rights Amendment, almost anything seemed worth trying — A chain-gang sit-in at the Illinois State house. Scene of Amendment Supporters last hope. Across the rotunda were pro-ERA fasters, growing thinner as the June 30th deadline approached, and an equally determined band of opponents. After the June 30th deadline the issue was dead and will be until the next century, when the issue will come up again.

"At the end of 51 yrs. of teaching, one tends to look backward. I don't really know what to say. Perhaps this poem says it best." - Lynell Weaver

The Teacher Muses Year after year they come to me These children with questioning looks. Year after year they leave me,

As they leave their outgrown books. And I wonder sometimes if I taught them Just some of the worthwhile things.

Just some of the things they'll need in life, Be they peasants, or poets, or kings.

and how to divide and add, But have they learned that these are not all That make life sad or glad? Have I taught them the cause of smiling

When things are at their worst? Have I taught them there's nothing that helps like a song

When the heart seems ready to burst? Have I taught them the joy of clean living That Honor is better than Fame? That good friends are the best of Treasures

Wealth, less than an untarnished name? Have I taught them that Fear is a coward Protection to those that are weak;

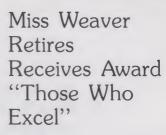

That Silence always is golden When Gossip bids them speak?

Have I taught them that Doubt is a coward Who is beaten when they say, "I can," That Courtesy ranks with Courage

In the heart of the real Gentleman? Have I taught them these things and the

That will make them brave, kind and true? If I have, then I care not if they tell me

That Irkutsk is a town in Peru R. J. Gale

Bricker nominated Miss Weaver for "Those Who Excel" award for this area. Miss Weaver won this award in a Ceremony in Chicago on

The Alton area youth representatives for the Upper Madison County Heart Association attended an organizational meeting to plan programs and fund raising activities. The representatives will be serving as an extention of the board of directors of the organization.

The youths will help collect donations and assist at Heart Association educational programs being planned for the public.

Dr. Robert Lynn, Supt. of Dist. 11 schools and President of the Heart Association Board for directors said "he is encouraged by the interest of the group to become involved in community service programs. The investment we all make for better health is the future should naturally include the youth because it is their future for which we are all concerned."

The chairman of the program committee that assist the youth representatives is Mr. Ed Hightower, principal of Eurine Smith and the Jones Center. Mr. Hightower is grateful to Dr. Robert Middleton, principal of Alton High School, for his help in establishing the youth group. The members of the youth group are Amy Reid, Julie Prewitt, Brad Collier, Jo Anne Haar of Alton and Kim Grabere of Godfrey.

Twenty-three excellent graphic designs were presented to the Mayor, making his decision difficult. He selected Andri's because of it's industrial implication.

Amy Conrady, formally known as "Madison County's Junior Miss", won the title "Illinois Junior Miss 1983" in the state competition on Jan. 23 in Chicago.

Amy won awards such as Overall Creative and Performing Arts, Overall Poise and Appearance, and Preliminary Physical Fitness. Her awards include $1,250 to use toward a scholarship at the college she chooses plus scholarships to eight colleges.

Amy will now be representing Illinois in the national "America's Junior Miss Program" in Mobile, Ala.
